Subject: RE: Risk Assessment Work Plan Review Schedule

Mike,
Gunner,
Pending the resolution of project funding and pending timely receipt of the surface water/ground water report, the DEQ expects to have comments on the two risk assessment work plans by December 22, 2017.
I agree that EPA, DEQ, and CDM Smith should meet to finalize our comments to present a consistent set of comments to ROUX.
Thanks you.
Dick Sloan

Subject: RE: Risk Assessment Work Plan Review Schedule

Hi Gunnar,

I am aware of the slip in schedule. We discussed this when we had the last CFAC meeting in Columbia Falls. Sorry, I didn't follow up with you. I actually have our legal drafting a change to the schedule for the Technology Memo as I am not a signature on the AOC. As far as the GW and SW data summary report that will be coming next week. (so I am told)

I have Brian Sanchez looking at the echo risk assessment and have sent the Human risk assessment to Susan Griffin, but she is retiring so I also Cc'd her boss to see who else will assist with the review.

Please let me know when CDM will be able to provide input and comments. Once I have that we can maybe have a call to get everyone on the same page.

Thanks for the note and have a Happy Thanksgiving,
Mike

Subject: Risk Assessment Work Plan Review Schedule

Hi Mike:

I talked with Erin Formanek to discuss schedule to complete the reviews of the Baseline Human Health and Ecological Risk Assessment work plans that we received from Mike Ritorto on Friday. We noted that CFAC/Roux's schedule has slipped since the April 21 schedule was provided, and that these documents were due over a month ago. But more importantly, other documents have not been submitted, in particular the Groundwater and Surface Water Data Summary Report that would contain data/interpretations that may impact the two work plans. That document was due at the end of September. It may be prudent to ask CFAC for an updated schedule.

Erin is pretty swamped with getting two risk assessments completed, but believe she can get comments completed by December 22, before she goes on vacation. Given that it is the holidays. I'm not sure what risk assessors you will be having to look at this. Feel free to call if you want to discuss, but that's our plan going forward for now. I am copying Dick Sloan on this to keep him in the loop.

If I don't hear from you, have a Happy Thanksgiving.
